

PROFESSIONAL STAFF EMPLOYEE HANDBOOK

Professional Staff Employee Handbook

Dear Professional Staff,

We welcome and encourage you to familiarize yourself with the contents of this Handbook, whether you are a new or current employee. This Handbook was established by Western's President and prepared by Human Resources in collaboration with the Professional Staff Organization (PSO) Executive Committee. It has been prepared to inform you of the practices relevant to you in your employment at Western, as well as provide the standards, terms, and conditions of employment in a clear and comprehensive manner. Furthermore, it is intended that it serves as an up-to-date guide for you during your employment at Western.

As a new or current employee, the skills, goals, perceptions, and values you bring to your position help to make the university the regional and national success that it is today. As such, you are part of a collaborative environment where faculty, staff, and students contribute to the mission of the university to:

Serve the people of the state of Washington, the nation, and the world by bringing together individuals of diverse backgrounds and perspectives in an inclusive, student-centered university that develops the potential of learners and the well-being of communities.

In return, it is the goal of Western to provide a meaningful and rewarding work experience for all employees. Part of that goal includes creating an environment in which its employees are fully informed of their duties and responsibilities, provided with adequate administrative and supervisory direction, informed of their performance levels, compensated appropriately, provided training, considered for promotional opportunities, and treated with dignity and respect at all times.

We encourage your engagement in all matters that affect your work. We hope that you will use your talents in a way that stimulates students, parents, faculty, staff, and the broader community, and thereby contributes to the vision of the university to “build a stronger Washington by being an international leader in active learning, critical thinking, and societal problem solving.”

Human Resources and the PSO Executive Committee

Introduction

The Professional Staff Organization (PSO) is one of the main constituency groups established in 1978 that comprise the governance system at Western Washington University (Western). It represents highly trained and educated individuals who formulate and direct the university's day-to-day operations. In their leadership role, they create and facilitate effective programs supporting Western's student learning experience, and share the responsibility of educating and supporting students by providing essential services and expertise.

PSO staff:

- Contribute to student success through advising, counseling, and teaching;
- Provide technological innovation and support that keeps Western more efficient in meeting the needs of the university, the state, and the nation;
- Conduct academic and institutional research, providing data that support the university and state decision-making;
- Provide mid-level management, confidential administrative and organizational support to Western; and,
- Foster and maintain strong relationships with outside constituents (alumni, parents, and friends).

The PSO membership consists of state employees in positions exempted from the provisions of the Civil Service Law (RCW 41.06.070) and are therefore not represented by a union. As such, they serve solely at the will of the appointing authority or designee. Notwithstanding the "at-will" nature of professional staff appointments, the provisions in this Handbook convey benefits and services available to professional staff, including options for addressing employment-related complaints. Their appointments can be modified or ended for any lawful reason, or reason that does not violate state or Western's policies or expectations. Professional staff employees therefore do not serve a probationary period.

The university and its professional staff maintain a collegial and committed relationship. As such, Western's President, with support from the PSO Executive Committee and Human Resources (HR), has established this PSO Handbook. Its purpose is to inform and instruct Western's professional staff employees about the university, state rules, policies, procedures, and performance expectations applicable to them, and provide the standards, terms, and conditions of employment in a clear and comprehensive manner. Periodically, this Handbook may be amended as policies, procedures, regulations, and laws are updated. In the event of a discrepancy between this Handbook and university policies or state regulations and laws, the latter will take precedence over the Handbook.

It is the duty and responsibility of the employee to be aware of and abide by these policies, procedures, and expectations.

This Handbook does not apply to:

- Temporary employees;
- Employees covered by a collective bargaining agreement; however, if the employee holds more than one position, each position will be covered by the respective contract/handbook;
- Executive Officers (E5 employee class); or
- Employees specifically excluded by the President of Western.

If you have questions regarding this Handbook, please contact the PSO Executive Committee at PSO@wwu.edu, or Human Resources at HRProstaff@wwu.edu.

Definitions

Administrative reorganization is the good faith reallocation, shifting, or elimination of job duties and/or responsibilities within a department or division, resulting in the elimination or reduction of one or more positions.

Administrative unit is any of the five groups of programs and functions reporting respectively to the President, Provost/Vice President for Academic Affairs, Vice President for Business and Financial Affairs, Vice President for Enrollment and Student Services, Vice President for University Advancement and President/CEO of the WWU Foundation, or the Vice President for University Relations and Community Development.

At-will employment means that employment that can be modified or ended for any reason that is not unlawful, at the will of the employing official or designee. (At-will employment also means the employee may end employment at any time.)

Complaint is a written appeal to the PSO regarding an employment matter in accordance with the PSO complaint policy and procedures.

Executive Administrative Officers include, but are not limited to, the President, Provost, vice presidents, and other employees included in the E5 employee classification.

Family members mean the employee's spouse or domestic partner, child, parent, grandparent, grandchild, sister or brother and spouse/domestic partner thereof. Family member also includes individuals in the following relationships with the employee's spouse or domestic partner: child, parent, or grandparent. It also includes those persons in a "step" relationship.

Flex time work schedule is the scheduling of personnel with supervisor approval around a pre-determined core time to enable employees to meet the operating needs of the department, or to allow for employee flexibility. The pre-determined core times are specific hours which all employees in a given unit must be present at his/her job.

Household members are persons residing in the same home having reciprocal duties for one another. This term does not include persons sharing the same house when the living style is primarily that of a residence hall or commune. Wherever in these policies "family member" is referred to, that term shall be deemed to subsume "household member" as herein defined.

Layoff is the cessation of employment due to lack of work, lack of funds, or administrative reorganization.

Market-based compensation is compensation based on peer institutions' salary data including data from Washington's public sector, and higher education institutions, i.e., state, regional, and national institutions with similar enrollment, budgets, public Master's granting institutions, Western's Board of Trustees' approved peer listings, or Global Challenge States (GCS) peers.

Market range is the salary range for a specific payroll title/position and resides within a Salary Grade. As such, the market range is smaller than the salary grade range.

Payroll title is a group of positions that are aligned based on position descriptions.

Position (working) title is the daily title you use for your position (e.g. email, business cards).

Professional staff is an employee who provides leadership, management, and/or program direction in collaboration with executive administration, faculty, and classified staff in the following areas: professional instruction; research; university infrastructure; and the student learning experience.

Project employees are hired to perform duties for a limited term of six months or more. Certain projects are funded by grants, contracts, or agreements.

Reduction in force is the reduction in the appointment of or cessation of employment due to financial exigency or legislative mandate.

Salary grade is the entire span of salaries for a group of payroll titles. The salary grade is utilized to align similar payroll titles to ensure equity.

Separation is the cessation of employment due to administrative reorganization, reduction in force, layoff, or inability to perform the essential functions of the job due to a disability with or without reasonable accommodation.

Temporary employee is an employee whose term of appointment is less than six months, or less than 50% full-time equivalent.

Total compensation is salary compensation plus benefits, e.g., medical, dental, and vision health insurance, and match on retirement contributions.

Working days include weekdays when Western is open.

Professional Staff Compensation Program

Western maintains a Professional Staff Compensation Program (Program), in support of achieving its mission and vision in a manner consistent with its values and fiduciary responsibility as a state-funded university.

Assignments, Promotions and Transfers

Western is committed to filling positions with the most qualified candidates available. In addition, Western supports a diverse workforce and opportunities for upward mobility.

Vice Presidents May Consider Employees in Filling Professional Staff Positions

Whether within or outside of their immediate area of responsibility, vice presidents may consider Western employees prior to an external recruitment while maintaining their commitment to Western's policies, including equal opportunity and affirmative action policies and procedures. A vice president may choose to open a search to all qualified candidates after considering internal candidates, or choose not to fill a position.

Performance Evaluations

Employee Work Performance Shall be Evaluated Annually

Performance evaluations shall be conducted annually. Supervisors will conduct formal performance evaluations following established protocols. The evaluation process is intended to provide an interactive opportunity to support the employee by reviewing, evaluating and clarifying job responsibilities, performance/accomplishments, expectations, potential barriers, training and equipment needs, and future goals and objectives.

In addition to the annual formal evaluation, supervisors are encouraged to facilitate discussion about performance on an ongoing basis and to provide periodic feedback. Employees are encouraged and expected to actively participate in the performance evaluation process, including seeking ongoing feedback.

Original evaluations will be forwarded to and maintained in the employee's official personnel file in HR.

Professional Development

Professional Development

Western and the PSO recognize the value and benefit of education and training designed to enhance an employee's professional knowledge and skills. Western and the PSO also recognize that an employee's institutional effectiveness will be enhanced by the employee's application of professional knowledge and skill within the context of the mission, vision and goals of the institution, division and unit. Supervisors and employees are encouraged to work together to identify reasonable and relevant professional development opportunities. Supervisors should provide guidance to an employee in these areas as part of professional development.

Tuition Waiver Program

Employees are eligible to participate in Western's tuition waiver program as provided in RCW 28B.15.558, and in accordance with Western's policies and procedures.

Professional Conduct and Code of Ethics

Professional staff at Western uphold the high standards of ethical behavior expected of Washington state employees as codified in RCW 42.52, Ethics in Public Service Act, and WAC 292-110-010, Use of State Resources. These standards include respecting and defending the rights of others, being responsible for their own actions, and maintaining an environment conducive to academic success, safety, and the well-being of others.

Professional staff have the duty and the responsibility to be aware of and abide by existing university, local, state, and federal rules and policies. They are expected to provide leadership, model professional behavior, and ensure well-regulated operations that support safe and healthy work environments in ways that protect the institutional integrity of the university, and the interests and security of all Western employees, students, and visitors. Professional staff also have the responsibility to perform their duties to the best of their ability and to established standards, including those set forth in their job description, by the supervisor, or as otherwise established in compliance with this Handbook.

Discipline

When an employee digresses from performance, conduct, and/or ethical standards, supervisors may, as appropriate, provide and/or arrange for the employee to receive coaching, counseling, and/or training. Western will determine the appropriate level of discipline up to and including termination.

Work Schedules

Employees Work a Standard Work Schedule

FLSA exempt employees are expected to work the hours necessary to fulfill job responsibilities and ensure coverage during the core business operating hours to the extent permissible by law.

Employees May Be Eligible For Overtime Compensation

The FLSA provides that certain professional staff are eligible for overtime or compensatory time at time-and-one-half. Management reserves the right to determine whether an overtime-eligible professional staff employee receives overtime or compensatory time for work performed in excess of 40 hours in a work week.

Flex Time Work Schedules Require Approval

Each request for an exception to the standard work schedule will be considered by a supervisor based on operational needs and the employee's request. Overtime eligible employees must use the Alternate Workweek Time Reporting Form to request a flextime work schedule.

An employee's proposed flextime schedule will not be approved if it will interfere with the work to be done or services to be performed. The final decision rests with the supervisor.

Employees Allowed Reasonable Time for University Service

Western values professional staff employee participation as an appointed or elected member of university committees and councils. When an employee is elected or appointed to serve on a university committee or council, such service is normally considered part of the work assignment and is not charged to leave. Supervisors are encouraged to approve the use of reasonable amounts of work time for an employee's voluntary participation in other forms of university service.

Leave Accrual and Use

All Leave Types Must Be Approved

Supervisor approval is required for all partial- and full-day absences; approval is required in advance of taking leave except for sick and emergency leave.

Reporting of leave time for payroll deduction purposes differs for overtime exempt and overtime eligible employees. See Professional Staff Time and Leave Reporting Guidelines for specific leave form and reporting requirements. Eligible leave taken will be reported by employees via the Employee Web Form Time Entry.

Leave Accruals Will Transfer

Leave accruals will transfer when an employee transfers to a leave-accruing position. In the event the employee transfers to a non-leave accruing position, eligible leave balances will be cashed out.

See Vacation Leave and Sick Leave sections for more information regarding transfer of leave accruals, if formerly a state employee or transferring from a state agency.

Vacation Leave

Employees Will Accrue Vacation Leave

Beginning with the first day of employment, the employee will accrue vacation leave at the rate of two days (16 hours) per month. The commencement of employment on any date during the month will be deemed sufficient for two days (16 hours) leave accrual for that month. An employee working between 0.5 to 1.0 FTE will accrue vacation leave on the pro rata basis that the appointment bears to a full-time appointment. Employees who are in unpaid status for more than 10 working days in a month will not accrue vacation leave for that month.

Employees are encouraged to take at least two weeks of continuous vacation depending on the amount of accrued leave available.

Vacation Leave Requires Prior Approval

All requests to use accrued vacation leave require supervisor approval prior to the scheduled vacation leave. Accrued vacation leave may be used for leave granted under POL-U5410.03 Taking Family or Medical Leave policy.

Vacation Leave Balances May Not Exceed 240 Hours

Vacation balances will be reduced to 240 hours (30 working days) on the last day of the pay period of the employee's anniversary date, unless the appropriate vice president has given prior written approval for additional balances. All requests for approval to exceed the maximum must include a plan to reduce the balance below the maximum by the beginning of the next anniversary year.

Cash Out for Vacation Leave May Be Available

A cash payment is provided for accumulated vacation leave under the following circumstances:

- the employee voluntarily resigns with a minimum of two weeks' notice on or after six months of continuous employment, or
- on the employee's separation/termination, retirement, or death.

Vacation Leave Accruals May Be Transferred

An eligible employee with prior state service and no break in service may have their vacation leave balance transferred to Western. Employees should contact HR to determine eligibility.

Personal Holiday Leave

Employees Accrue One Personal Holiday per Calendar Year

Those employees with a full-time appointment will accrue a one-day personal holiday per calendar year if the employee is scheduled to be, or has been, continuously employed by the state of Washington for at least four months. Those employees with less than a full-time appointment will accrue leave based on their appointment percentage.

A personal holiday may be used any time after the commencement of employment with supervisory approval. An eligible employee may use the personal holiday for leave time granted under the Taking Family or Medical Leave policy, POL-U5410.03.

Unused personal holidays do not carry over to the next calendar year and cannot be cashed out upon separation, resignation, retirement, termination, or death.

Employees Accrue One Winter Break Day per Calendar Year

Those employees with a full-time appointment will accrue a one-day Winter Break Day per calendar year. Those employees with less than a full-time appointment will accrue leave based on their appointment percentage.

Subject to operational and staffing needs, the employee may use one paid Winter Break Day between the end of Fall Quarter and the beginning of Winter Quarter. Employees are expected to coordinate their use of the Winter Break Day with their supervisors. The day may not be carried forward and may not be converted to cash.

Community Service Leave

Employees Accrue One Community Service Day per Fiscal Year

Those employees with a full-time appointment will accrue a one-day Community Service Day per fiscal year. Those employees with less than a full-time appointment will accrue leave based on their appointment percentage.

A community service leave day may be used any time after the commencement of employment with supervisory approval. An eligible employee may use the Community Service Day to participate in community service, including volunteer work on behalf of schools, community or charitable organizations, and organized volunteer events.

Unused Community Service days do not carry over to the next fiscal year and cannot be cashed out upon separation, resignation, retirement, termination, or death.

Sick Leave

Employees Accrue Sick Leave

Employees appointed after July 1, 1997 accrue eight hours (1 day) of sick leave on the first day of employment and at the beginning of each month thereafter. Those with less than a full-time appointment will accrue sick leave based on appointment percentage.

Former State Employment Sick Leave Accruals May Be Restored

Sick leave balances may be restored for former Washington state employees who are reemployed in a professional staff position at Western within three years of their separation date from state employment, however the employee must participate in Western's sick leave accrual plan for this section to apply. Contact HR to check for eligibility.

Reserve Sick Leave May be Available for New Employees

On the first day of employment, an emergency reserve of up to 12 days (non-accruable) of sick leave may be available during the first year of employment. All available accrued leave, including shared leave, must be used prior to using approved reserve leave. Determination for reserve sick leave will be based on:

- available funding,
- medical necessity that meets Shared Leave Program criteria, and

The employee may be required by a supervisor or HR to submit a written physician's certification supporting the need for absence because of illness or disability by a licensed physician or health care practitioner.

180 Day Medical Leave Plan

The 180 Day Medical Leave Plan option for professional staff will no longer be available as of November 7, 2016. Employees covered by this plan through November 6, 2016 will remain in the 180 Day Medical Leave Plan until there is (a) separation of employment or (b) election to convert to the Accrued Sick Leave Plan, whichever is earlier. Additional details on the 180 Day Medical Leave Plan can be accessed on the HR website.

An employee may take leave in the event of an unexpected short-term emergency requiring an immediate response. The employee must inform their supervisor as soon as practicable. These emergencies include:
